Student Poster Award Opportunities

This is the 4th year the St. David's CHPR will make awards for the best student posters. CHPR will award $300 for the top student poster, $150 for runner-up in both categories (undergraduate poster award; graduate poster award). Eligibility for poster awards and awarding criteria are described below.

NEW Poster Award Opportunities in 2019

The Center for Health Communication in the Moody College of Communication will sponsor a special $150 award for the best student poster with a health communication focus. Posters will be judged on scientific merit and visual presentation.

The Steve Hicks School of Social Work Student Poster Award

For the first time, The Steve Hicks School of Social Work will recognize the Best Overall Poster submitted by a social work graduate student and award a certificate of excellence. Posters will be judged based on scientific merit, visual presentation, & verbal communication. Whether or not an award will be given will be based upon an adequate number of accepted submissions.

Eligibility for Student Poster Awards:

- Student must be first author on poster;
- Student author must present their research at the St. David's CHPR conference; &
- The poster must reflect the student's research question and not the work of their advisor.

Posters will be judged on the following (60 points maximum):

- Identified Health Problem, Methods, and Approach (16 points: related to health promotion/disease prevention; clear approach, appropriate to answer research question),
- Results (12 points: appropriate analysis, clear, accurate findings),
- Conclusions and Implications (12 points: consistent with results, implications for practice, for future research),
- Poster Format Presentation (12 points: readability, visual impact, logical organization), and
- Student Presentation (8 points: responds to interviewer questions about study).

Winners will be notified at the end of the poster session (1pm) at the conference – February 27, 2019.

Submission: Submissions are accepted by email only. Application materials should be emailed to CHPR@mail.nur.utexas.edu
