The Urban Ethnography Lab Presents

A WORKSHOP WITH LOÏC WACQUANT

MAKING SENSE OF BOURDIEU: A GENETIC SKETCH

MONDAY MAY 4TH 11AM - CLA 1.302E

Loïc Wacquant is professor of sociology at UC Berkeley, and researcher at the Centre sociologie européenne, Paris. His work spans urban relegation, ethnoracial domination, the penal state, incarnation, and social theory and the politics of reason. His books have been translated in twenty languages and include Body and Soul: Notebooks of An Apprentice Boxer (2004), Urban Outcasts (2008), and Punishing the Poor (2009). For more information, see loicwacquant.net.

-- event open to the public --

Sponsored by the Race & Ethnicity Group and the Sociology Department.