Bystander intervention is recognizing a potentially harmful situation or interaction and choosing to respond in a way that could positively influence the outcome.

RECOGNIZE HARM

Harm is anything that constitutes a negative physical, mental, social, or emotional response affecting a community, a group of individuals, or a single person.

This can include, but is not limited to:

- Concerning behavior
- Thoughts of suicide
- Interpersonal violence
- Academic dishonesty
- Hazing
- High-risk drinking
- Harassment
- Mental health concerns
- Bias incidents related to race, ethnicity, disability(ies), gender expression, sexual orientation, religion or other identities.

CHOOSE TO RESPOND

BeVocal promotes strategies to help reduce barriers to intervention and empower individuals to assume personal and collective responsibility.

Motivations to intervene include:

- "I know it's wrong and others are probably thinking the same thing."
- "I care about the person being impacted."
- "I'll feel better knowing I did something."
- "I would want someone to help me if I was in that situation."
- "I have friends here who can back me up."

1 in 7 students have intervened in potentially harmful situations or interactions since arriving to UT Austin.

2014 BeVocal Student Survey

TAKE ACTION

Direct Action: An active approach to intervening that requires direct articulation or expression of concern with the situation.

1. Ask questions/get clarity
2. Create a distraction
3. Talk/address directly

Indirect Action: also known as a 'detour' approach, less visible forms of intervening.

- Get other people involved
- Call 9-1-1
- Contact UTPD non-emergency at (512) 471-4441 or utexas.edu/police
- Contact Behavior Concerns Advice Line (BCAL) at (512) 232-5050 or utexas.edu/safety/bcal
- Report to the UT Campus Climate Response Team (CCRT) at utexas.edu/diversity/ccrt
- Follow up, check in and offer resources related to the issue to the person being impacted

Campus Safety & Awareness

Be aware of your surroundings

Put 512-232-WALK (9255) into your phone

Utilize 24 hour BCAL line: 512-232-5050

Understand fire protocols & evacuations

Many weapons are prohibited on campus -- if you see an armed person, call 9-11, do not approach yourself

Crisis? Feeling Unsafe? Stay Calm & Dial 9-11
