

RECOGNIZING OPIOID OVERDOSE

If someone is experiencing one or more of these symptoms, they may be overdosing:

- Breathing slow and shallow
- Unresponsive
- 3. Tiny pupils
- Slow heart rate, low blood pressure

- 5. Gurgling and/or snoring
- 6. Skin is cold and/or clammy
- Cannot wake up
- Bluish lips or fingers

- · Call 911 right away.
- · Give them Narcan® (naloxone) if available.
- · Perform rescue breaths (CPR).

Source: Indian Health Service (2018), First Responder Training Program Presentation. Naloxone Trainin Toolkit. Retrieved from https://www.ihs.gov/opioids/includes/the mes/responsive2017/display_objects/documents/lhsnaloxonetraining.pdf