Seeking support? Schedule
a drop-in meeting with Longhorn TIES!

TIES offers up to three, FREE drop-in coaching meetings per semester for undergraduate and graduate students who identify as neurodivergent (no proof of diagnosis needed).

Drop-in coaching meetings are best for:

- Short-term problem solving.
- Campus and community resource referrals.
- Topics such as: executive functioning, communication, social connection, professional development, independent living, and more.
